Welcome to the sixth edition of Presbyterian Senior Living's (PSL) Celebrating 90...A History of Service; A Legacy of Love, a report of our Community Benefit Program. This program reflects the wide variety of activities that are undertaken at each PSL location. While the mission of an organization guides its purpose, it should also remain fluid to meet changing needs. This publication demonstrates who we are as an organization, the constituents we serve and our commitment to our neighbors and employees. President's Letter

2017 marked the year that Presbyterian Senior Living celebrated its 90th year of service to seniors. The years immediately following World War I orphans and aging persons could often be found living in dire circumstances. In a time before Social Security, Medicare, Medicaid and the network of social services that are taken for granted today in our country, the responsibility to care for these vulnerable populations fell to persons of faith who were moved by compassion and concern to reach out to meet these pressing needs. With the encouragement and vision of Mrs. Ellen Parker and local Presbyterian pastors and elders, a non-profit corporation was formed to care for needy older women.

What began as a working farm to care for nine older single and widowed women in Newville, Pennsylvania has grown to serve more than 9,000 people annually in a variety of health care, housing, and community service settings. This remarkable journey from these humble beginnings to one of the country's leading provider of health, housing, and supportive services is chronicled in Presbyterian Senior Living's history book titled, A History of Service, A Legacy of Love, 85th Year Anniversary Edition.

Over the past 90 years, PSL has provided millions of dollars of charitable care to individuals who have outlived their resources and could not pay for the services they needed. In addition to this direct subsidy, there are a variety of activities that we describe as "Community Benefits" that include the following:

- Education and Training – On-site educational offerings extended to the wider community, often in conjunction with other community groups.
- Community Outreach – Programs, both on-site and in conjunction with local schools, churches, senior centers, and other community venues.
- Resident and Staff Volunteer Efforts – The entire PSL family is engaged in volunteer service to help their neighbors and improve their communities.
- Civic Engagement – Participate in civic activities that foster awareness of issues that affect the community and provide direct assistance in solving problems as they are identified.
- Paying Taxes – Even though PSL is legally exempt from many forms of taxation as a charitable, tax exempt organization, PSL pays over $4.7 million in taxes annually to support the health of the communities in which we reside.

Having a not-for-profit status gives PSL the freedom to concentrate on the needs of residents and their families as its highest priority, providing a sharper focus for our staff. We believe that the ability to concentrate on a person centered approach enables PSL to attract employees and volunteers who share and are committed to similar core values.

Like the previous editions of our Community Benefits, the following pages are a summary of those provided by PSL at its 30 locations across Pennsylvania and in Maryland, Delaware and Southeastern Ohio.

It is our privilege to continue the wonderful commitment of this historic ministry to seniors.

Introduction

Community Outreach and Civic Engagement

Presbyterian Senior Living offers a wide variety of outreach programs both on-site and in the external community. The outreach programs provide information and support to community members and in partnership with community organizations. The outreach programs may be offered in local schools, churches, senior centers, or in our PSL communities. The offerings include community health fairs, relay for life, on-site meeting rooms for various community agencies including the Alzheimer's' Association, American Red Cross, boy and girl scout troops, Salvation Army, Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis, Rotary, Red Cross Blood drives, and after school programs. At every PSL location we strive to make a significant impact on the surrounding community.

Civic engagement means working to make a difference in the life of our communities and developing the combination of knowledge, skills, values and motivation to make that difference. It means promoting the quality of life in a community, through both political and non-political processes.

Resident and Staff Volunteerism

Both employees and residents have a long history of their commitment to volunteering. Residents move to our communities with a rich profile of their volunteer efforts and they continue to support volunteerism in their new home, serving in their local churches, community organizations, local schools, community thrift shop, fund raising projects, hospitals, and other programs of interest. Staff provide volunteer public education programs, leaders in community organizations and professional organizations, community gardens, Salvation Army, Kiwanis, community auxiliary members, pee wee soccer, hosting an international family, Caring Casseroles for shut-ins, Chamber of Commerce, Christmas bazaar, assist handicap citizens to grocery shopping and serving as a Sunday school teacher.

Education and Training

On-site educational offerings extended to the wider community, often in conjunction with other community groups. Educational programs offered include basic life support training, first aid training, successful aging seminars, retirement living programs, veterans' education insurance programs, Alzheimer's disease, hospice care, Medicare D sessions, and safe driving to list a few. Colleges and universities utilize our communities for nursing clinical rotations, social work, gerontology, and food and nutrition programs. Lectures are offered by community staff or in partnership with local community leaders. Residents provide mentoring programs for school children assisting with homework and or reading programs.
